Furniture store to reopen in triple jobs boost for town

CANNOCK has received a major jobs boost as it was revealed a well-known furniture store is returning to the town. Two other firms are spending millions to relocate there.

Brian James Furniture went into administration in March after 35 years in the town, shedding 19 jobs. It will reopen its doors on October 29 after the name and premises in Walsall Road were bought by Smethwick-based furniture firm NCF.

The site has had a £1m refurbishment and 20 jobs have been created. This includes 10 of the workers made redundant when Brian James Furniture closed down.

Meanwhile, a £12m new sorting centre will be built to house a thriving delivery firm, more than doubling its workforce, as it announced profits had shot up by 70 per cent. APC Overnight plc plans to build a 128,000sq ft new centre at Kingswood Lakeside Business Park, Cannock.

Bosses described the firm's current headquarters in Warstone Road, Essington as "too small". The move will create at least 300 jobs on top of the 250 employed at the current site.

A leading van retailer has also launched a flagship £2.5m site in Cannock with the promise of future jobs. Van Monster will share their new UK headquarters with Northgate Vehicle Hire which is moving its business from Willenhall.

Van Monster moves to the 5.75 acre centre in Walkmill Lane, Bridgtown, from its former base in Hay Mills, Birmingham. Northgate Vehicle Hire, which employs around 20-25 people will transfer staff to the new site at the end of November. It will occupy 480 sq m of office space.

Delighted Cannock Chase Council leader Councillor George Adamson said: "It is great to see these firms have confidence in the district."

RUGBY CLUB COUNTING THE COST OF VANDALISM

A RUGBY club has made a heartfelt plea to vandals to stop damaging its proposed new headquarters.

In the past 12 months more than £10,000 of damage has been caused to an old scout hut near St Augustine's Church, which Rugeley RUFC is trying to renovate into a clubhouse.

Club officials say vandalism is being caused to the building – which they are continuously having to repair – almost every week.

New doors have been kicked in and plasterboards smashed through, with the building entered by force by what police and the club assume are repeat attacks by a group of local youths.

The building was acquired with the help of Rugeley Open Space Association and its redevelopment is being funded entirely by the rugby club.

Their plan is to turn it into a community hub which could be used by Rugeley groups and clubs, as well as other nearby rugby teams such at Burntwood and Cannock.

Disrepair

But John Watson-Parkes, press officer for Rugeley RUFC, said that dream was a non-starter while the vandals were incessantly causing damage to the building.

"We're taking one step forward and then four steps back the moment," he said.

"We inherited the old scout hut from the sea scouts and it was in a state of disrepair but we as a club, over the last 12 months, have been gradually putting that right at our own cost.

"Every time we do some work on it, we come back on the Saturday morning and it's all been smashed up."

Fundraisers have been held throughout the year to try to raise money for the redevelopment and to repair the damage caused.

Mr Watson-Parkes said he and other committee members were making sporadic spot-checks at the site, but as yet no-one had been caught in the act.

With the building eventually planned to be one which will benefit the whole of Rugeley, the press officer said the family and friends of the vandals were losing out too. "That's the most annoying thing – it would benefit them, their family and their friends in the long run," Mr Watson-Parkes added.

"We're trying to achieve something for people like them to use and we're working very hard.

"It's costing us as a club and we're trying to build the club up so people can come and enjoy us.

"We're doing this for the town and for the people of Rugeley – we want them to be proud to have us as a club.

"But we need to get the building up and running first because until we can officially have it down as our address we can't apply for funding grants.

Quiz

"And we can't do that while these vandals are causing all this damage.

"We despair, but we carry on."

Another fundraiser towards the club house renovation – a quiz night – is being held next Wednesday (October 26) at the Glass Works, starting at 7.30pm.

Rugeley Rugby Club is the oldest-running continuous sports club in the town, having been founded in 1947.

From its inception the club had various headquarters, moving from Hagley Hall to Baggies and Lea Hall.

They are currently based at The Vine on Sheep Fair and have three senior teams and two junior teams, with a third junior side soon to be formed.

Team Tom in marathon challenge

A GROUP of Cannock teachers will be running 13 miles this weekend to raise money for a pupil who suffers from leukaemia.

Year 9 pupil Tom Turner, aged 13, has missed classes at Cannock Chase High School for several months and is currently being treated at Birmingham Children's Hospital.

Teachers at the school in Hednesford Road wanted to raise money to send Tom and his mother away for a break when the youngster feels well enough.

Duane Roberts is leading a group of at least seven teachers and friends in the Birmingham Half Marathon on Sunday (October 23).

He said the group was hoping to complete the event in one hour and 50 minutes.

"If we finish in the time we say, a couple of us will be chalking up personal bests," said Mr Roberts.

"This is Tom's second bout of leukaemia after he fell ill with the disease when he was seven or eight. We just want to give him and his mum a break."

A group of Cheslyn Hay residents are also taking part to raise money for CRY (Cardiac Risk in the Young).

Fitness instructor Zoe Teale died in her sleep, aged 23. Zoe's dad Peter is among those taking part from the village. Another is DS Stephanie Bradley, who is based at Wolverhampton's Bilston Street station.

Sunday champs go up for the cup against Rooneys

MEMBERS of a Cannock Sunday league football team come up against football royalty next month after landing a plum cup draw.

Belt Road made it through the second round of the FA Carlsberg Sunday Cup at the weekend by beating Bolton Woods 3-0 at Brereton Town FC and were paired with Oyster Martyrs.

The Merseyside-based outfit features three members of none other than Wayne Rooney's family. Uncle Richie is the team's manager while cousin Thomas and brother Graham are both in the Oyster team, which competes in the Liverpool Sunday League.

The game will be played on November 20 and Belt Road secretary Brian Seager said the team were excited about their big day out.

"The players are looking forward to playing to Rooneys, although I don't suppose Wayne will be there," he said.

Wayne and wife Colleen did attend an Oyster game two years ago when the Rooney-led team reached the Sunday Cup final, losing 4-3 at Anfield to Nottingham side Scots Grey.

Trophies

And Oyster have a rich recent pedigree in the competition – the biggest tournament Sunday league sides can enter – having won the 2010-11 title in May by beating Paddock at Prenton Park in front of more than 1,100 spectators.

Belt Road have form of their own though – the side are current Cannock Chase Football League champions and scooped four trophies last season, the first Cannock side to do so since the 1970s.

Mr Seager said they would certainly give Oyster a good game. "It's a challenge for us and a big test," he added.

"It'll be a good day out and it's a marker to see how good we are."

The FA Sunday Cup has been in existence since 1964, four years after the FA officially recognised Sunday football for the first time.

If Belt Road beat Oyster and reach round three they will be one of 32 teams left in the competition.

L to r: County councillor Pat Corfield, local residents Keith Wooldridge and Theresa Donlon and county councillor Robert Marshall at the launch of the No Cold Calls Scheme

Initiative is launched to stop doorstep crime across Chase

AN INITIATIVE to help protect people from doorstep crime and rogue traders has been launched across the Chase.

Residents are being given information packs which include No Cold Calling cards and a bookmark with the details of free services they can register with, such as the telephone preference service, silent call guard and the mail preference service.

Eight No Cold Caller zones will be set up in Cannock by the end of this month, with other schemes to follow.

Staffordshire County Council's trading standards team is working with the police and the local Neighbourhood Watch to offer people advice and provide additional home security measures. The scheme was launched at Lord Cromwell Court, a sheltered housing scheme in Bradford Street, Hednesford with county council cabinet members Robert Marshall and Pat Corfield.

Councillor Marshall, responsible for community safety, said "Doorstep criminals target older and more vulnerable residents. We can go a long way to stopping them by raising awareness, offering support and helping with security measures.

"We are aiming to give residents in Cannock and Staffordshire greater peace of mind. We are also appealing for friends, neighbours and family members to offer support to tackle these criminals."

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe, head of Cannock police, said bogus callers often claimed they were from a utility company or the council.

They often worked in pairs and left victims distressed and confused.

He added: "No Cold Callers zones are an important step forward in our fight against doorstep crime."

Details about tackling distraction burglars and bogus callers are also available in the "advice zone" section of the force's website, www.staffordshire.police.uk

Hauliers hit out over M6 Toll website

OPERATORS of the M6 Toll have launched a new website to help customers – but hauliers say they would have been better off reducing prices to try to increase usage.

The most recent traffic figures for the road show a fall of 13 per cent year-on-year in usage of the 27-mile stretch of motorway which runs between Cannock and Coleshill.

Midland Expressway Ltd, the firm behind Britain's only pay-as-you-go motorway, has launched a new interactive website, saying the move was in response to customers' requests.

Helen Stevens, transport manager of family-run W E Stevens Haulage Contractors Ltd, of Norton Canes, said they should be looking at lowering prices instead.

It now costs £10.60 for HGVs and £5.30 for cars to use the M6 Toll.

"The website sounds like a big waste of money. The best way to get more usage is to reduce prices.

"We don't use it because of its ridiculous price."

Winfield Transport Group, in Hawks Green, also said it had only used the toll road occasionally because of the high costs.

Listened

Chief executive of Midlands Expressway Tom Fanning, said; "Following dialogue with our customers we have listened to their needs for an update and modernisation to refresh the website and it has always formed part of our business plan.

"After eight years in operation, we are simply listening to our customers' needs, as should all businesses."

The new website, www.m6toll.co.uk, offers information for first time users and a separate log-in for existing Tag customers enabling them to manage their Tag accounts.

Range of groups lined up for centre's opening

A RANGE of community groups will be taking part in the official opening of a new £400,000 community centre.

Hednesford Town Council will be handed the keys to the modern flat-roofed Pye Green Community Centre at the end of this month before the official opening day on Saturday, November 5.

There are plans at the opening event to plant a time capsule featuring pictures of the builders, and a data recording of people living in Hednesford.

There will also be contributions from local schoolchildren and a copy of the Express & Star inside.

Friends of Hednesford Park, Stafford South West Youth Offending Team, Staffordshire Wildlife Trust, Find It In Hednesford, Cannock Chase AONB, Stars Dance Academy, Hednesford Gardening Club and representatives from Cannock Chase Council and Staffordshire County Council will all be looking to see what the revamped community centre will be able to offer them.

Hednesford Town Council clerk Peter Harrison said: "On the fifth, the building will be open between 11am and 5pm and everyone will be able to have a look around and see the new facilities."

Mr Harrison said the council was in the process of securing a VIP to officially open the new community centre.

The building incorporates Scandinavian-style wood panels and a glass-sided reception area.

The first phase of work at the centre has seen the building of a new extension which includes a meeting room and exhibition area.

Work has now begun on improvements to the old part of the building which will see a new kitchen, toilets, refurbished function room and bar and an IT suite.

The centre in Bradbury Lane, Hednesford, stayed open for the first phase of the work.

It closed on August 1 to allow the builders to complete the interior work and contractor Niken Construction have met their pledge of of having the building open by the end of October.

Any other groups wishing to take part in the opening can contact the town council on 01543 424872.

Contractors carry out work to remove the trees at Hednesford Park

Work under way at town park

CONTRACTORS have begun work to improve the access to Hednesford Park from the town's new £50million town centre redevelopment.

Over the next few weeks the contractors will be removing some trees and adjusting ground levels within the 80-year-old park to provide three new access and service routes and an entrance from the new Tesco at Victoria Shopping Park.

Buildings are being bulldozed in the town to clear the way for the new superstore on stilts, together with smaller shops and parking.

The overall scheme, covering 10 acres, is expected to lead to 600 new jobs.

The Aquarius Ballroom, in Victoria Street, has already been flattened as part of the comprehensive 18-month project to regenerate the town centre.

The latest works form the first phase of park improvements. Developers St Modwen will initially remove five trees from the park's frontage on Victoria Road and along the main pathway.

Links

The trees will be replaced in a later phase.

Councillor Diane Todd, portfolio leader for town centre regeneration at Cannock Chase Council, welcomed the progress of the scheme.

She said:"Hednesford Park is a lovely green space at the heart of the town centre. New developments at Victoria Shopping Park and Chase Gateway will reinvigorate the town and provide greater links between the town and the park.

"Further improvement works are planned for the park to create a warm and welcoming space to enjoy for generations to come."

Construction began on the revamp in April. Since then progress has been swift in delivering the first phase of development which includes new purpose-built premises for Hollywood Bingo Club and the Reserve Forces and Cadets Association.

The work at Hednesford Park is due to be complete in four weeks.

Tips on care of animals offered

A SERIES of free pet workshops are taking place for children throughout the half-term holidays.

The workshops take place at Pets At Home at the Orbital Centre, Cannock, and have been designed to increase awareness and knowledge of how to care for different types of pets responsibly, particularly as winter approaches.

Pet advisers will explain how to keep small animals safe and warm during the winter with outdoor rabbits and guinea pigs needing particular care.

Store manager Steve Spiers said: "We'll be holding a variety of exciting workshops for children to take part in.

"From rabbits and guinea pigs to fish and wildlife, the workshops will be something fun and interesting for children to do over the half-term holidays."

Children can also take part in Picnic Time, an interactive learning session where they can watch the pets being fed their healthy afternoon snacks – and learn about their feeding habits.

Picnic Time takes place every weekday at 4pm and at 2.30pm on Saturdays and Sundays. For workshop times, call the store on 01543 501940.

Artwork by Rolf featured

WORK by TV star Rolf Harris and a talented local artist is featured in new autumn collection in Cannock.

The Artworx Gallery hosted a launch party last week to mark the new display, which will showcase work by Staffordshire-based Stuart Mayor.

Stuart studied illustration at The School of Art and Design in Wolverhampton, which led him into art education. Now he is now head of the art department.

Despite his passion for teaching, Stuart has always dreamed of painting full-time. Stuart's work centres around busy city life.

He works with acrylic paints and begins his painting process by sketching the image directly on to the canvas with paint, adding in the block colours, then adding the finer details.

He said: "I am inspired by the impressionistic style and hope to translate many elements into my work."

In addition, the gallery, at Cedars Business Park, Avon Road, is presenting the new autumn releases by Rolf Harris. His wildlife paintings have already been on show at the Whitewall Galleries, in Lichfield.

The launch party also featured new works by Kerry Darlington, Paul Horton, Matthew James, Sarah Louise Ewing, Doug Hyde, Caroline Shotton, Sarah Graham and Peter Smith.

Double boost as town a top property hotspot

THE leader of Cannock Chase Council has hailed the naming of Rugeley as one of the UK's top property hotspots as a double boost for the town.

Councillor George Adamson said: "This is particularly good news following the announcement of Amazon moving to the town. We know that Tesco, too, is opening up there.

"It is a double boost for the region and is a sign that things are hopefully picking up. It shows that there is confidence in the area."

Research by Halifax showed that house sales in Rugeley were up by 30 per cent in the first six months of 2011, the third biggest rise in the country.

The substantial increase in home sales in the town has been driven by a rise in the level of activity at the lower and middle end of the housing market with terraced homes accounting for 43 per cent of the overall rise and semi-detached properties making up a further 38 per cent.

Only the northern towns of Bury and Leigh, both in Greater Manchester, recorded more sales.

However, despite the large increases, a major factor of the high growth is down to the fact that they have come from a relatively low base level of sales, says Halifax.

Total transaction levels in the top 10 performing towns over the past year are still on average 49 per cent lower than a decade ago although Rugeley has fared the best at 29 per cent.

Demand

Martin Ellis, head of housing economics at Halifax, said the relatively low level of prices in the town – making them more affordable than many others – had been the key factor behind the increase in demand for properties in Rugeley.

"To put the increase into context, the total number of sales in the first half of 2011 was still significantly below the level recorded in 2007," he said. "But while properties in the area may have lost value compared to London and the south east, it least it has helped them to sell."

Amazon is setting up a major distribution centre at Towers Business Park, the site of the former Lea Hall Colliery, creating 900 jobs. Meanwhile, Tesco is hoping to open on the former Celcon site in Power Station Road.

Village firm takes over old bakery

A CHESLYN Hay firm has bought out an historic former Walsall bakery that closed last year after more than a century of trading.

The former Hollands Craft Bakery, in John Street, has been taken over by CMS Catering, which runs the Village Bakery.

It will reopen next week as Savannah Craft Bakery, creating six new jobs.

Staff will produce and sell food on-site, while also serving breakfast and manning a new stall at Bescot Market every week.

Hollands, which also had a shop in Bloxwich and a store at Bilston Market, was one of the most established names in the Black Country.

The 105-year-old business was forced to shut in December, leaving 19 people out of work.

CMS Catering managing director Colin Ball said: "We have an existing wholesale bakery in Cheslyn Hay and we thought it was time to expand our operation."

Hoard items shipped over to US

Birmingham Museum & Art Gallery collections care officer and Staffordshire Hoard conservation manager Deborah Cane with some of the items that are due to go on display in Washington DC

PRICELESS pieces from the Staffordshire Hoard have been wrapped up so they can be transported to America to go on display there.

The Anglo-Saxon hoard was dug up by metal detecting enthusiast Terry Herbert in a field in Hammerwich belonging to farmer Fred Johnson. The pair shared the £3.3m valuation of the seventh century treasure.

Now, a total of 117 gold and silver items of gold, which have been show at Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery are destined to go on display in Washington DC.

They were due to be transported today (Thursday) for an exhibition that starts on October 29.

Items include a gold and garnet Christian cross, helmet fragments and a folded gold strip which has an inscription on it. The items are due to be returned in February.

Birmingham Museum & Art Gallery conservation manager Deborah Cane said: "It's sad to see that part of the collection go but we are also keen for it to go to America.

"We're hoping it will grab their attention and help tourism here by encouraging Americans to come to the Midlands to see it."

Halloween show is for adults only

A GROUP of local performers are staging their own very special Halloween show next weekend.

The Fakir show at Edward Street Club is for over-18s only and all performers are from the local area.

It will feature a bed of nails and glass walking among other things.

The show takes place from 8pm on Saturday, October 29, and will also features a buffet and a disco for the cost of £5.

Tickets can be purchased on the door on the evening.

A charity raffle is also taking place in aid of West Chadsmoor Family Centre to aid with its fundraising campaign.

The centre has been struggling for funding.

Purrfect end to a holiday

A CAT which went missing from its seaside home has been found safe and well – hundreds of miles away in Penkridge.

The six-year-old moggy had made the 250-mile trip to the Midlands with holidaymakers from Penkridge who had been on a caravan break to the resort of Polzeath, Cornwall, and thought she was a stray.

They arranged to return the cat to its distraught owners after the misunderstanding was discovered – but the animal escaped before the handover could take place.

Now Esme has been found after a newspaper appeal by owners Peter and Jane Craske.

And a tip-off to 45-year-old Jane provided the breakthrough. She was called by a good samaritan from Penkridge who had spotted the black, white and ginger pet in a field. She tried to coax her out, but the cat refused to budge from under a hedge.

"I asked her if it was possible to put out some cooked chicken for her – Esme loves chicken. As soon as she saw it she came from her hiding place.

"She's back home now and looking remarkably fit, although she is sleeping a lot, which is unlike her. I'd like to thank everyone who helped in the search."

The couple had driven up to Penkridge to visit the home in Filance Lane where she was brought, and spent two days putting up posters appealing for help in tracing her.

Mr Craske, aged 45, who runs a surf school, said: "After five weeks living rough Esme is now back home in Cornwall.

"Everyone that we spoke to in Penkridge was amazingly helpful and we had lots of people ringing."

Labour farewell to stalwarts Joyce and Bob

Labour friends and colleagues bid farewell to Joyce and Bob Merry

TRIBUTES have been made to two staunch Labour Party supporters who have left Cannock Chase.

Bob and Joyce Merry, who between them have notched up 136 years of Labour Party membership, have moved to Wales and were given a big send-off by the constituency party.

Former Prime Minister Gordon Brown – via a letter and a signed copy of his book – and other party faithful paid tribute to the couple, who met at the 1953 Labour Party conference.

Bourne Methodist Church was the venue for the party where letters of praise were read out by Ian Reilly, Labour's secretary general for the Midlands.

Gifts given to Bob and Joyce included a photo of them celebrating former MP Tony Wright's first electoral success in Burntwood and Cannock, which Dr Wright presented in person. An umbrella to shield them from the Welsh rain and a cheque made up of donations from their friends and colleagues to use in their new home near Cardiff were also presented.

Brian Bottomer, press officer for the Heath Hayes & Wimblebury Labour branch, said: "Bob and Joyce wish to be nearer to their daughter – but they are already making enquiries about the Labour branch in the area so they have not given up yet despite their years.

"Bob and Joyce are much respected in the area for the work they have done over the years, both charitable and political."

Bob is a former Birmingham councillor while Joyce was a magistrate. The couple lived in Cumbria for many years.

They later settled in Cannock where Bob became secretary of the Cannock constituency Labour party and agent to Labour MPs Gwilym Roberts and Dr Wright.

Concerts in memory of tragic mum Trudy

TWO concerts to raise funds for research into brain tumours will be held to launch a group set up following the death of a young mother.

Trudy's Trust has been established in memory of former beauty queen Trudy Shingler, daughter of a Rugeley man, who died from a brain tumour earlier this year. The concerts at Aston Wood Golf Club, near Sutton Coldfield, will aid the Brain Tumour Research charity. Trudy, a forensic psychologist, died in February after losing her battle with illness.

The former Miss Walsall, aged 35, lived with husband Lea and three-year-old son Phoenix in Burton upon Trent.

Stunned at the tragedy of losing a much loved wife, daughter, sister and mother just four months after being diagnosed, her family has been inspired to set up Trudy's Trust to raise funds for research into brain tumours.

Brain tumour victim Trudy Shingler with husband Lea and son Phoenix

Trudy's father, Mark Leeson, of Rugeley, said: "We wanted to put something back so that other people don't have to suffer like Trudy did and, as a result, the rest of her family.

"Brain tumours are so savage and kill more children and people under the age of 40 than any other cancer. If it had been any other cancer, at least we could have talked to Trudy in the weeks before she died, but the tumour took away her ability to communicate."

Cabaret

He said when Trudy, a former Aldridge Community School pupil, fell ill, they found how little was known about brain tumours and how much research was needed.

Only around one per cent of all cancer research currently looks into tumours.

Mr Leeson, a special needs teacher at Moreton School, in Wolverhampton, is also a part-time musician and played piano at Aston Wood Golf Club for 10 years.

The club is providing the venue for the concerts on November 5 and 6, free of charge. The line-up includes West End singer Shonagh Daly and cabaret actress Cat Davies, among other acts.

Tickets for the concerts are £25 and can be obtained by calling 0121 580 8484.

Church venue for festival of trees

A CHURCH in Cannock is hosting 40 Christmas trees in preparation for their first charity tree festival.

From November 24-26 St Luke's Church, Mill Street, will be bursting with festive firs and organisers are inviting local groups, businesses and individuals to decorate a four foot tree in aid of a charity of their choice.

Admission for guests is £2, half of which will go to church funds while the other will be converted into a token which they can then post in a box against their favourite tree.

Birthday sale at aid shop

A CHARITY shop is holding a special sale of items next week to mark its 10th anniversary.

The International Aid Trust shop, in Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes, opened its doors on October 22, 2001 the first of four shops in the Midlands. To commemorate the achievement a sale is being held from Monday to Friday, October 24-28, and birthday cake and refreshments will be shared with visitors.

Other International Aid Trust shops are in Chadsmoor, Hednesford and Pelsall, raising vital funds to help the national charity carry out important work overseas and in the UK.

As well as offering items for sale the shops have ongoing appeals for shoeboxes, dried food and sponsored families and holidays.

Thousands of shoeboxes have been sent abroad via the four shops, including a donation of 1,800 from St Anne's Church, in Burntwood, last year.

Alison Cardy, area co-ordinator for the charity, heaped praise on the shop's supporters, including Bourne Methodist Church, and thanked individuals for their generous donations.

"People such as Evelyn Gelder, Kathy Carter, Lana Wooley and Vi Cotterill – all local ladies working from home – have donated several thousands of shoeboxes between them," Alison said.

International Aid Trust, a Christian humanitarian charity, has been helping needy people for 20 years.

Alison added.: "The aims of our Christian charity are to help people in a practical and spiritual way and this includes offering good quality goods for sale at low prices."

Hospital bosses 'happy' at review

BOSSES at Cannock Hospital have welcomed a review which found it met all essential standards for dignity and nutrition for older patients – but warned against complacency.

An inspection of the Brunswick Road hospital by the Care Quality Commission found staff were "excellent", although patients observed the unit was understaffed.

Hospitals were examined against the criteria that patients were treated with "respect, involved in discussion about care and treatment and able to influence how the service is run".

Food and drink also had to meet individual dietary needs. Cannock Hospital was judged to be 'compliant' for both standards, which is the highest possible rating.

The hospital was one of 100 from across the country selected to undergo an assessment on how well older people are treated.

Colin Ovington, director of nursing, said: "We are delighted with the result of this assessment but will continue to strive to provide the best possible care for patients; we will not be complacent."

Residents urged to fill in form

HOUSEHOLDERS in Cannock are being urged to return their annual canvassing forms so they are eligible to vote.

The forms list all the people currently on the electoral register at that address. It's a legal requirement to complete the forms, even if there is no-one eligible to vote.

More than 75 per cent of forms have been returned so far and reminders have now been sent out to non-respondents.

The next scheduled elections in Cannock Chase will be on May 3, 2012, when 13 of the council's 41 seats will be contested.

Harrison Joyce

New ruling on blind cords launched

NEW rules to change the way window blind cords are made are being introduced in the wake of the tragic deaths of two Staffordshire youngsters.

Three-year-old Harrison Joyce, of Lichfield, and 16-month-old Lillian Bagnall-Lambe, from Stafford, were both strangled after becoming tangled in looped blind cords within days of each other in February 2010.

Harrison's father Scott Joyce has welcomed legislation being brought in by the European Commission which means that, in the future, cords will break or come undone if they come under any pressure. The industry will be given time to prepare for the change before a deadline is introduced.

Businessman Mr Joyce, of Leomansley Farm, Walsall Road, has campaigned to get the blinds banned and said the new ruling was a step in the right direction.

"We are making headway, and they've admitted there's a problem. It's been impossible for us to move on because Harrison's death is always there in the background," he said. "All we can do is try and get some justice to show this wasn't just a freak accident."

The Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents said there had been 18 toddler deaths in the UK since 1999 caused by old-style blind cords, and seven since 2010.

The Joyce family launched the Harrison's Law campaign to prevent further similar tragedies. Mr Joyce, who manages several businesses, and Harrison's mother Rachel Lawlor, both aged 39, set up the website www.harrisonslaw. co.uk to raise awareness.

Hidden chamber is found under water

ENGINEERS carrying out £5.5million repairs to the Chasewater dam discovered a hidden chamber which had been submerged by water for two centuries.

The chamber was revealed for the first time in 200 years when the reservoir at the heart of Chasewater Country Park was drained amid concerns for the safety of its dam, which dates from 1797.

Bosses at Lanes for Drains, based in Minworth, say no-one knew the chamber was there before they began work. What it was used for is still a mystery.

Engineers who exposed the chamber said it "looked like a cathedral opening up in front of us".

Dave Faris said: "Having to work on the bed of a reservoir and the length of time the culvert had been untouched made this a challenging project. We now have access to a lot of 21st century technology, but with this job we also had to deploy the kind of muscle power used by the engineers who built the reservoir two centuries ago.

"It was fascinating to see the culvert emerge from the mud. The workmanship of the brickwork was stunning, given that it was so old. Then we were all taken by surprise to see the chamber.

"Through the lens of the video camera it looked like a cathedral opening up in front of us." The chamber, which is around 12ft below the bottom of the reservoir, measures 5ft by 6.5ft. The Minworth engineers were contracted to clear debris and carry out a CCTV survey in August. The chamber was found after a culvert was discovered.

During a clear-out, a camera detected the large chamber, 82ft along the culvert. Using an electronic locator device, workmen 11ft above the culvert were able to pinpoint the chamber.

They dug down and found an iron plate that capped a shaft leading to it.

In all, the clearing and surveillance work took four and a half days.

Steel fence to keep out vandals at country park

A LARGE area of heathland which is home to rare plants and animals, is being protected with steel fencing put up to keep out vandals.

The beauty spot is part of Chasewater Country Park, a Site of Special Scientific Interest.

The move extends the protected area of countryside by a further 180 hectares and means more of Chasewater's heathland, fens and swamps are protected by law.

Funding from Natural England pays for a team from Lichfield District Council to encourage the restoration of heathland through careful land management, including grazing some areas with cattle.

The council has successfully grazed two areas of Chasewater – Anglesey Basin and the Heathland Translocation – for five years. However, yobs vandalised some of the fencing which keeps the cattle from straying. This also prevented the council from extending grazing to the north shore of Chasewater, the largest area of heathland on the site.

Saplings

The council says without cows on site to maintain the acid grassland and eat the tree saplings each year, the team has to manually cut and collect this vegetation, which is expensive and less effective.

Councillor Neil Roberts, cabinet member for development services, said: "As vandals won't be able to cut through it, it will mean that we can extend the grazing area and be confident that the cattle are safe."

Meat new village butcher

Darren Symes opens his new butchers shop in Burntwood Road, Norton Canes

TRADITIONAL homemade faggots and fresh cuts of prime beef are back on the menu at a butcher's shop in Norton Canes.

Darren Symes, who currently owns a shop in Brownhills High Street, has expanded his business and taken on a second shop – the former Mason's butcher's in Burntwood Road. The shop opened on October 1 and the venture has created two jobs.

Mr Symes, aged 42, who runs the business with wife Claire, is now recruiting for one new full and one part time position.

"We seem to have seen a resurgence in people shopping the traditional way – getting their produce from grocery shops, and their meat from the butchers," he said.

"I think people like getting to know the face behind the counter, and know that they are getting a good, fresh cut of meat.

"We're doing really well at the Brownhills shop and we're hoping to recreate that success in Norton Canes.

"When the opportunity came along to take on a second store, we weighed up the pros and cons and decided it was worth it."

Work for four after jobs fair

FOUR posts were created following two jobs fairs in Cannock and Rugeley – but several more are expected to follow in the near future.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley organised the events to try to boost employment figures.

More than 600 people attended the fairs, and 360 CVs were handed out. Although the four jobs were created as a direct result of meeting candidates at the fairs, Mr Burley said he expected many more to be made.

As a direct result of the fairs Bluebird Care has interviewed and recruited four local people for positions as care workers with more due to be interviewed over the next couple of weeks.

Susan Milakovic, director of Bluebird Care, said: "We were really grateful for the opportunity to recruit some excellent staff ready for the autumn and winter. There is a huge demand in the area for high quality care staff."

One of the new recruits, Samantha Danks, said: "I was thrilled to be given the chance to be a carer and I'm very grateful that the jobs fair was held."

Mr Burley said he had a number of emails from residents saying they have been given interviews and placements as a result of meeting employers at the events.

He said: "I would like thank all the businesses and jobseekers for getting involved. At the beginning of this process I was clear that if we could help just one person find employment then the fairs would be worthwhile."

Coastal trek helps SNAP

FOUR Cheslyn Hay club members put their best foot forward to raise more than £1,080 in a 220-mile charity trek.

Richard Studley, Ian Jones, Lyndon Grainger and Nigel Shaw are all members of Cheslyn Hay Community and Sports Club and took part in the Wainwright coast-to-coast challenge in aid of the Special needs Adventure Playground (SNAP).

The charity is close to Richard's heart as his 11 year old autistic nephew, uses the Pye Green Road facility.

Two of the men had to retire early from the 16 day mission due to ill-health, but Richard, aged 31, said: "It was a hard task with many blisters, aches and pains, but SNAP does such a good job and this was our way of giving that little bit back.

"We want to thank everyone who supported us."

Quartet scale the heights for charity

FOUR pals have returned from a mountainous trek to raise money for a new bed at Birmingham Children's Hospital.

The quartet, namely Jed Eatough, aged 42, from Lichfield, Nigel Tongue, 42, from Penkridge, Nick Gane, 39, from Abbots Bromley and 43-year-old Rob Williams, of Leek, headed off to Tanzania to scale Mount Kilimanjaro.

They returned on Sunday (October 16).

They were inspired by Nick's wife, who works at the hospital's burns centre where there is a need for a high-dependency bed.

They hope to have raised £20,000.

Jed, an accountant, said: "He convinced us after supplying us with copious amounts of beer."

The four had previously completed The Three Peaks Challenge.

Former care home set for demolition

A FORMER care home in Cannock which has lain derelict for three years is to be bulldozed after complaints about drug abuse and yobs congregating at the site.

Residents have increasingly raised concerns about yobs hanging around Langbourn House in Longford Road . The building has been a magnet for vandals since it was shut and boarded up in 2008.

Windows were smashed and drug users were said to regularly dump used needles in the grounds.

Now Staffordshire County Council says the building is scheduled to be demolished later this month even though there are no definite plans for the future of the site.

County councillor Pat Corfield said they were responding to reports from residents about youths gathering around the former care facility.

Langbourn care home

"We have heard from a number of residents and they were worried about anti-social behaviour and hypodermic needles around the site," he said.

"We have looked at increasing security at the site to help with the problem. The next phase is demolition of the building." The building was one of 14 homes closed under the council's controversial Changing Lives Policy as part of cost cutting measures, with residents forced to find accommodation elsewhere.

The move prompted more than 1,300 objections from angry relatives.

Last year county bosses talked about replacing the former home with a multi-million pound development of flats for the elderly, including 24-hour care provision.

There were also discussions about giving the building a new lease of life as a halfway-house centre offering intermediate care for residents between hospital and their own homes.

The plans to open Langbourn as an extension of the services at Cannock Chase Hospital, operated jointly by the NHS and social services, were said to be well-advanced. However, the plans were shelved.

There's Knorr way in as illegals found

A SNIFFER dog discovered eight illegal immigrants heading for Cannock on a lorry. The stowaways were found hiding among pallets of stock cubes.

It is the third time this year that stowaways have been found in freight bound for the town.

UK Border Agency officers in Calais, checking vehicles en route to Dover, stopped an Italian registered refrigerated freight vehicle with an Italian driver. A seal was in place on the back doors but had been incorrectly fitted, allowing it to be removed and replaced.

A sniffer dog called Jake alerted his handler to the presence of some unexpected passengers in the back of the lorry. Officers then boarded the vehicle and found eight men hiding among pallets of Knorr stock cubes.

The stowaways were questioned and said they had come from Afghanistan. They were handed over to the French border police.

The lorry was allowed to continue its journey to the UK but both the driver and haulier could now face a fine of up to £2,000 per stowaway unless they can prove they took sufficient steps to secure the vehicle.

Caught

On January 4, six Eritrean nationals were sniffed out by a UK Border Agency dog. Then on January 15 two women and a man, also from Eritrea, were caught hiding in another lorry. Both vehicles were carrying loads of Knorr soup and were on their way to Cannock.

Carole Upshall, UK Border Agency director for South and Europe, said: "Having UK Border Agency officers based in northern France means we can check vehicles before they cross the channel and stop would-be illegal immigrants setting foot in the UK.

"Our strong presence at the border is preventing illegal immigrants from heading for places like Cannock."

Head gardening teacher Tony Cooper helps Chadsmoor primary School pupils plant bulbs to celebrate the 120th anniversary of St Chads Church

Church in bloom to celebrate 120 years

SCHOOLCHILDREN have ensured that a churchyard will be blooming with colour next spring to mark its 120th anniversary.

Youngsters from the Chadsmoor Junior School in Burns Street helped plant around 600 bulbs in the grounds of nearby St Chad's Church. Teacher Jane Barrett said: "The children all worked really hard planting the bulbs. They are all really looking forward to seeing their hard work pay off."

June Jukes from St Chad's Church said: "When they flower they should be in the form of 120."

One-star rating for takeaway

HEALTH inspectors gave a takeaway a one-star rating after mouse droppings were found in a garage where potatoes were stored.

Cod and Pizza in Stafford Road, Huntington, was ordered to check for rodents.

Owner Haroon Mohammed, who took over three months ago, said food was no longer stored in the garage and that the whole of the premises was now clean.

A report, published on the www.ratemyplace.org.uk website stated: "At the time of the visit potatoes were being stored in the garage.

"Due to mouse droppings being found in the garage, you must not use this area for food storage. You should also contact a pest control contractor in order for them to undertake a survey."

A South Staffs Council spokesman said the droppings appeared to be old with no sign of recent activity.

Building on stadium site is not a sensible suggestion

CONSERVATIVE councillor John Burnett, has a very selective memory. He accuses the Labour and Lib Dem parties of being responsible for the road to nowhere through Pye Green Valley.

What he forgot to mention was that it was the Conservative-controlled county council that built the road. Strange, that.

Not happy with causing untold damage to that piece of open space, the Conservatives now want to do the same on the stadium site, the last open space in Cannock North, the most deprived area in the whole of Staffordshire.

If Councillor Burnett really does want to defend green open space in our district he should be supporting Labour in our attempts to stop unwarranted house building on our green space areas. We will continue to defend our open spaces for the benefit of all of the community.

Councillor Burnett then goes on to say that Labour have refused several offers to join coalitions recently, Really? This is news to me. Perhaps he is confused by the Conservatives' attempts to woo the Liberal Democrats last May, after the local elections. The disastrous record of the Conservative/Lib Dem coalition that ran Cannock Chase previously is hardly a great advertisement for their ability to work for the benefit of the Chase district.

As Labour Group leader I have discussed important issues with opposition leaders and I will continue to do so. The Labour Group is happy to consult with other parties and take on board sensible suggestions. This seems to be an eminently sensible way to work.

Councillor Burnett also forgot to mention that the Labour Group gave Conservative councillors a number of important committee chairmanships when we took control of the council. This hardly seems to be the actions of a dogmatic party that refuses to work with others, as he alleges.

Finally, he mentions a plan for the stadium site that he apparently supported some years ago to build on part of the site and fund sport and leisure facilities on the rest of the site.

I have investigated this and I have been told that the Conservatives and Lib Dems rejected it years ago when they decided to try to build luxury homes on the whole site, against the wishes of the vast majority of local people.

The stadium site is too important to lose. Developers are looking at the land west of Pye Green Road, the Conservative county council wants to build 330 houses on Pye Green Valley. We need to keep as much of our green open space as possible for local people. We are happy to take on board sensible suggestions. Building on the stadium isn't one of them.

Disappointing reply

I WAS so disappointed by the almost dismissive response from our police chief on the matter of anti-social behaviour in the Hednesford area. For him to pass it down to the shoulders of our community police officer is just not acceptable.

I know and respect this officer, he is a good hard-working bobby but he is just one pair of legs. Currently, I have been made aware of some 17 incidents, many of them not reported to the police and when one asks why, the very disturbing response is – and I quote: "It's a waste of time."

If our citizens lose faith in the ability of the forces of law and order, then we are in a very bad way. Surely even with stretched resources the police could mount a short-term assault on these hooligans?

Evidence in short supply of PM's passion for NHS

BEFORE the General Election last year David Cameron made much of his passion for the NHS. Evidence of this commitment has been in short supply since he became Prime Minister.

The Conservative-led government are forcing a top-down reorganisation of the NHS that wasn't in the Conservative election manifesto and that nobody voted for.

Health professionals such as the BMA have voiced serious concerns about the government plans for our health service but the Government, after a temporary 'listening exercise', is ploughing on with its dangerous plans.

Treasury figures show that, despite pledges to the contrary, spending on the NHS has been cut, waiting times are going up, and, under the Tory plans, hospitals will be allowed to prioritise private patients over NHS patients.

Despite the changes made after the 'listening exercise' the Royal College of Nursing believes that the NHS will be more expensive after the reorganisation, with more red tape and bureaucracy.

The Royal College of GPs and the Royal College of Nursing, the BMA, health experts and patients' groups have criticised the plans to change the NHS as wasteful, unnecessary and potentially damaging to the millions of patients who rely on the NHS.

Evidence of 'people power'

AS THE Labour ward councillors for Boney Hay, in Burntwood, we are writing to thank everyone who supported us when we opposed the telecommunication mast and associated equipment cabin, on the pavement in Spinney Lane.

There was an incredible response from the community and we managed to raise a petition of nearly 550 names. Many thanks go to all who helped us by knocking on doors; the local shops and those that signed.

As a result of everyone's efforts, we are delighted that the planning application has been refused and the applicant is looking for an alternative site away from residential properties.

This is proof of what 'people power' can achieve and we assure the people of Boney Hay that we will continue to support them with any problems that may come along.

May we remind you that we hold a surgery every last Saturday month at Boney Hay Working Men's Club between 11am and noon. Also there is a surgery at Burntwood Library on the first Saturday of the month from 10-11am when Boney Hay Councillors join with all Burntwood ward Labour councillors.

A worthy successor

DO any of your readers remember Jack Paget? I feel Helen of Hednesford is a worthy successor.

WRITER FROM RUGELEY

Bothered, why? It's only Hednesford . . .

IT seems every mobile phone mast requests for Cannock are denied, yet they get to build one not 50 yards from residential areas on Station Road, Hednesford.

While our councillors just turn their backs on its existence, our MP does more for his own popularity status than the future health concerns of his electorate, and our Prime Minister changes laws against carrier bags from supermarkets than the ever-increasing costs of gas, electricity and fuel.

But it's only Hednesford – why bother? It's because I care. What a pity others don't do the same.

Volunteers collect for farming charity

LOCAL volunteers took to the streets of Rugeley on Saturday, September 24, to raise money for Compassion in World Farming, Britain's leading farm animal welfare organisation.

The £93.26 raised will enable Compassion in World Farming to continue to campaign for increased standards of farm animal welfare.

Date sought for end of landfill operation

CANNOCK Chase District Council is stepping up its efforts to get an exact date for landfill operations to end at the Poplars site.

The authority wants public access to the area – which lies within the Green Belt – to be restored.

The site in Lichfield Road, Cannock, was run by Staffordshire County Council from the 1970s but Biffa Waste Services has run it under lease since 1999. There is no finishing date attached to the existing planning permission for the landfill operation but there are moves to set one.

The district council's cabinet will today (Thursday) consider a report from head of planning and regeneration Bob Phillips setting out the latest stage of the Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent joint waste core strategy plan. The council has until November 4 to respond to the county council. As part of its response the district authority is to ask for discussions with the county as waste authority and other interested parties to establish an end date for the landfill operation.

District council leader George Adamson said the council saw the end of waste-tipping at the Poplars as a key issue.

"People living near this site have had years and years of nuisance with smell and noise," he said.

"Enough is enough – we now want to get a firm date established for when it will finish."

The district council is also being recommended to reiterate its opposition to the proposals to locate a waste-to-energy incinerator at the Kingswood Lakeside site.

Appeal

Recently, the county council's planning committee reversed its decision to approve the planned incinerator at Kingswood Lakeside which would have handled 400,000 tons of waste a year.

Biffa has yet to reveal whether it is to appeal against the refusal.

The district council was concerned that it would not just serve southern Staffordshire but would see waste brought in from the West Midlands conurbation by road.

The incinerator was part of a £200m expansion project at the landfill site.

Owners in row over Swan With Two Necks

Feathers fly as pub is closed in dispute

Landlady Anne Walters with local residents Nigel Moss, Ian Strachan, Chris Smith, Joyce and Norman Swinson and Robert Chaplain outside The Swan With Two Necks

AN iconic village pub near Rugeley has closed its doors for the first time in more than 250 years following a dispute with the owners.

The award-winning Swan with Two Necks, in Longdon, opened as an inn in 1755 and has not shut since, even during two world wars.

But the beer taps have run dry following a row with Punch Taverns over the terms of the pub's lease.

Villagers, backed by the Campaign for Real Ale and by Lichfield MP Michael Fabricant, have launched a campaign to save the popular pub, which closed after talks between the two parties broke down.

Licensee Anne Walters still lives on the premises with her 12 year-old daughter, but Punch will not supply her with beer until the row is resolved.

Existing

Campaigners blame the pub chain for not trying hard enough to bring the dispute to an end. Punch denies the claim.

Villager Ian Strachan said: "Punch say they want the pub open but their actions do not support their words.

"They dragged their feet seeking a meeting with the leaseholder and then offered the licensee a temporary lease on preposterous, unaffordable terms much more draconian than those offered to the existing leaseholder.

"They also wanted to tie in all the drinks to Punch on top of the existing beer tie. They have warned the licensee that she and her daughter will be kicked out onto the streets in four weeks if she doesn't accept the new terms, which is unlawful. Punch is behaving dreadfully.

Punch Taverns spokesman Leila Maia said: "We are doing everything we can to re-open the pub and we are currently awaiting feedback from the licensee."

Dr Rosie Loftus

If you've been coughing for 3 weeks, it might not be 'only a cough', so tell your doctor.

Everyone gets a cough now and again, but if you've had one for over three weeks you should see your doctor. Coughing could be a sign of lung cancer. Of course, in the vast majority of cases it won't be serious. But if there is something wrong, finding it early means it's more likely to be treatable, so tell your doctor.

The site of the health centre in Eskrett Street, Hednesford

Starter homes plan at old health centre

FIRST time buyers are set for a boost if plans to convert the site of a rundown doctor's surgery in Hednesford into nine homes are given the go-ahead.

Proposals have been sent to Cannock Chase District Council by the South Staffordshire and Shropshire Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust.

The former Hednesford Health Centre site has fallen into disrepair since it closed in 2007.

But the trust wants to build four semi-detached house, a row of four terraces and a single detached property, as well as creating an 18-space car park on the site in Eskrett Street.

The former single storey surgery sits adjacent to the town's telephone exchange and electricity sub station.

Trust bosses hope the homes will appeal to first time buyers.

The plans, submitted by local architects Sutton and Wilkinson, show the homes will have three bedrooms and new vehicle access will be created off Eskrett Street.

The design and access statement says: "The site is in need of redevelopment and following discussions with the local authority planning department it was agreed residential use was most appropriate."

Loft

Some of the homes will have a bedroom built in to the loft spaces.

Sutton and Wilkinson say: "The proposed houses are two and 2.5 storey and will be designed to be compatible, in terms of external appearance and use of quality materials with adjacent houses and commercial buildings, respectful to their surroundings, while creating an interesting and vibrant visual addition to the street scene."

"The height and massing of the proposed buildings have been considered and echo the scale of the nearby residential and commercial development."

Under the plans, all of the existing trees will be retained and the fresh plans may include additional hedge, tree, and shrub planting.

Martin Evans, a spokesman for The South Staffordshire and Shropshire Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust, said the houses would be starter homes and the Trust would try to get the best value for the taxpayer before starting the development.

He said: "What we would get for them depends on the market value is at the time."

Standards of care at home are criticised

A WOMAN from Cannock has hit out about her mother's treatment at a Black Country care home where standards were criticised.

Anne Franks hit out over the care of her mother Maria Morson at Ryland View Nursing Home in Tipton. Maria, aged 88, suffered two broken legs which went untreated for more than three weeks, her family claimed. The injuries to Mrs Morson prompted a police investigation.

The care home has been criticised by health watchdogs as "inconsistent and unsafe" The Care Quality Commission expressed major concerns over the standards of care and safety of residents at the Bupa-run home in Arnhem Way July.

The damning report followed action by Sandwell Council a year earlier to stop the home taking new residents. In its report the Care Quality Commission stated: "The care that some people experience at Ryland View has been inconsistent and unsafe. A number of incidents within the home had occurred resulting in injuries to people."

One resident suffered a broken leg after falling while another became trapped in bed rails, it was revealed.

Relatives said Mrs Morson, who is unable to move and talk following a stroke, suffered two breaks in her left leg and one in her right.

Truth

Doctors at Sandwell Hospital told the family the fractures were three to four weeks old when they were discovered last November.

Mrs Morson's daughter Anne Franks said: "Something happened to my mother in that home. We will never know the truth now."

A police spokesman said: "An investigation took place which included speaking to a number of witnesses. No further action was taken."

An improvement plan was adopted in March to tackle the issues but Bupa would not comment on Mrs Morson's case.

Ann Jaron, Sandwell Council's cabinet member for adult social care, said: "There have been fewer than 10 incidents reported, which is not many in a 100-bed home of elderly frail residents."

Fugitive ordered chips from police – then fled

Con scales mast to flee from cops

Grant scaled this Pye Green pylon

A FUGITIVE sought sanctuary 40ft up a pylon and then fled after eating chips he demanded police fetch for him.

Drug courier Leigh Grant, who had been drinking beer during a four-hour stand-off, taunted police on Facebook within an hour of escaping after being cornered by officers.

The 34-year-old from Cannock was on the run from custody and had clambered up the communications tower to avoid pursuing officers,He threatened to jump if anyone came near.

A large crowd gathered under the pylon, next to Cannock Chase's landmark Pye Green Tower. Three fire engines and an ambulance also arrived on the scene.

Eventually, Grant promised to come down if someone fetched him some chips.

But after receiving the £1.45 treat from Pye Green Fish Bar, the fugitive requested that all emergency vehicles be moved back from the scene.

Onlookers watched incredulous as Grant scrambled down the pylon and made his getaway to a waiting car. Within an hour of his escape, he was taunting police on the social networking site.

Scrambled

Grant, who had recently been living in Plant Crescent, Stafford, has since been arrested. He was picked up near Cannock late last Wednesday (October 12) and taken into police custody before being returned to prison.

Police said they had to weigh up the risk posed to life – his own and members of the crowd that had gathered – with making an arrest. An eye-witness, who did not want to be named, said: "He demanded that all emergency vehicles be moved back from the scene, scrambled down, did a runner and there was a car waiting."

Fugitive Leigh Grant – back in prison

Cannock Police Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe said: "Each situation poses individual challenges for the emergency services and we have a duty of care to everyone involved whether they are an offender, member of the public or a member of the emergency services."

Grant had been on the run for four weeks after breaching the terms of his licence and was recalled to prison.

He had been jailed in August 2010 and released in August this year on licence until April 2013 but removed his electronic tag. He had been given 32 months stretch for supplying Class A drugs.

Police found nearly £8,000 worth of cocaine in a raid on his home in Crab Lane, Chadsmoor. The seizure took place when Grant was on bail for possession of amphetamine. He admitted possessing cocaine with intent to supply and possessing £790 of amphetamine.

Pub staff to spread that festive cheer

STAFF at a Rugeley pub will be spreading the festive fun in a bid to raise money for sick children.

The Glass Works staff will brave the cold and cycle from Lichfield to Rugeley on December 17, in 'sexy Santa' outfits. They will stop at pubs along the way gathering donations for children at Birmingham Children's Hospital.

Pub manager Alex Cooper said: "All of the staff are behind it. It's all for the kids.

"We've known some kids who've been in the hospital."

Last year the staff managed to raise £1,800 for Help For Heroes, and hope to top that target this year.

Christine Mills, a member of the fundraising team at Birmingham Children's Hospital, said: "We are delighted that the Glass Works has chosen to support us. It is a really unique way of fundraising and we look forward to the event."

Glass Works, on Brewery Street, has an all new menu, and is currently running the 20 free meals a day offer and two-for-one on all meals.

For more information contact Alex on 01889 585856.

All the activities are free and will include a bouncy castle, face painting, balloon sculpturing and games. Refreshments will be on sale and all families are welcome. A spokesman for the Anson Street venue said many parents had expressed a wish for a fun, safe Halloween event for their children without having to dress up as witches or ghouls or go trick or treating.

18th year is marked with cake

CANNOCK AND DISTRICT LADIES PROBUS CLUB

CHAIRMAN Val Beale welcomed everyone to the October meeting which was the 18th birthday of the club and was celebrated with a birthday cake.

Betty Ramsden gave news of members unable to attend because of poor health. June Ward sold jewellery in aid of Newlife and Betty Hunter sold her lovely greetings cards.

Thanks were given to Jenny Dunn for organising the outing to Touchwood. Barbara Matthews introduced the speaker, Mr Ken Gilks, who entertained everyone with humorous rhymes and tales of his life.

Val closed the meeting with a joke and wished everyone a safe journey home. The club meets for lunch at the Chase Golf Club on the first Thursday of the month.

For details of membership contact Barbara Bowman 01543 505107.

New PA system causes hiccups for the president

HAYES GREEN WI

CLUB president Sandy Hobbs welcomed all members and visitors using the new PA. system – after a few hiccups, she got there in the end.

Minutes were read and signed, apologies given, and the treasurer's report was read.

The speaker for the evening was Mrs Barbara Marshall accompanied by her friend Nicky. Mrs. Marshall's talk was 'A Crafty Christmas'. Mrs Marshall had brought along with her endless boxes of bits and pieces that would make up into Christmas decorations. She produced a small Christmas tree, then showed the home-made decoration which she hung on the tree.

The speaker said these were simple, easy ideas for decorations without a lot of cost; and could be achieved by using all odds and ends. She went on to tell us what you can do with cereal boxes, sticky back plastic and glue it was amazing. She went on to show how to make angels, a Father Christmas, Christmas stockings, hearts and wreaths.

Mrs Marshall said she was about to bring out a book with all the information and diagrams on how to make the decorations. Rosemary took names of the members who wanted a copy which was priced at £5.

Ten years ago, Mrs Marshall, along with a group of ladies and men, was awarded an OBE for the Millennium Chadsmoor Tapestries. Susie King gave the vote of thanks. All Mrs Marshall's fees go to the Fight for Sight charity.

Mrs Hobbs reminded members about the forthcoming events, the Autumn Council Meeting at the County Showground, the Heathside Group meeting, where Hayes Green are the Hostess Institute, the Christmas party, the Christmas meal, carol service at St John's and the County Carol Service at Lichfield Cathedral.

The competition which was a Christmas stocking, was won by Di Bevan. Second was Mary Russell and third Irene Watkiss.

The raffle was won by Rosemary, which, was a Father Christmas bell and a pack of Christmas cards.

The speaker for the November meeting is Mrs Lin Luty who will we be demonstrating how to dance. It is called 'Dancing Strictly with Lin'. The competition is a 'Hair Ornament'.

Meetings are on the first Wednesday of the month at St John's church hall, Heath Hayes, at 7.30 pm.

Winemaker Ken gives talk

NORTON CANES WI

THE October meeting was opened by the president Norma Jenvey who began by welcoming members and visitors.

The minutes of the September meeting were read and agreed.

Everyone reported that they had enjoyed the demonstration of flower arranging by Chris Flood and also learning how to make rings to decorate for Christmas.

The Heathside group meeting is at St John's Church Hall on October 27 at 7.30 with Hayes Green as hosts. David Bartley will entertain with a Black Country theme.

The post-Christmas meal at The Terrace restaurant will be on February 15.

There are a few spaces for the November 17 Tamworth shopping trip, with a meal on the way home.

The raffle last month was very successful, when the flower arrangements were included in the prizes, and has helped with group funds. Norma introduced speaker Ken Marshall whose subject was "Drink My Garden".

Ken explained that he had started to make wine when he moved house and acquired a large garden with an abundance of fruit and vegetables. Not knowing what to do with all the produce apart from trying to give it away, he decided to make wine, and became very successful, winning competitions.

Ken went on to tell of some of the vegetables and fruit with which you can make wine and how to do it. It was a most entertaining talk,

The next meeting will be at Norton Canes library on November 2 at 7.30 when the speaker is Barbara Marshall.

New members and visitors are most welcome to come along.

Concerns on waste facility near school

Pupils get hooked on pirate day

CHILDREN enjoyed some swashbuckling fun when they dressed up as pirates for the day.

The eight and nine-year-olds at Norton Canes Primary School, in School Road, took part in activities like map-making and a treasure hunt.

The day was organised for the youngsters as part of their term project learning about explorers.

Biscuits

The Year 4 pupils came to school wearing colourful costumes including eye patches.

Teachers were also in fancy dress for the day.

Children also got the chance to do some cooking, making ship biscuits.

Teachers said the day had been a success and the children ahd enjoyed the activities.

PLANS for a hazardous waste facility near a primary school in Brereton have sparked anger.

The facility, if approved, would become a hub for transferring toxic materials and be capable of storing up to 10 tons of asbestos at a time.

SCI Asbestos is behind the plan, which protesters say may affect the health of children attending Redbrook Hayes Primary School, less than 300 metres away.

The move has faced opposition from politicians and locals.

Brereton & Ravenhill parish councillor Paul Fisher said: "I am absolutely against this move, and am opposing it vigorously. There are far more appropriate places which are not in the locality of a primary school.

"It even backs on to people's gardens. I shall be leading a petition to get this matter defeated."

Councillor Tim Corbett, chairman of Staffordshire Council's planning committee, said: "It is definitely a cause for concern. The committee hasen't yet made a decision."

Chris Dale, director of SCI Asbestos, was not available for comment at the time of going to press.

Madame Butterfly, The Grand, Wolverhampton

The coquettish and beautiful Elena Dee seemed born to play the part of Cio-Cio-San in this Ellen Kent production of Puccini's tragic love story.

With a soprano voice that filled the theatre with crystal clear tones and excellently expressive acting, Korean singer Dee portrayed the misguided and lovelorn Madama Butterfly wonderfully.

She was more than ably supported by Ruslan Zinevych as the love rat Lieutenant F B Pinkerton, Viktoriia Zhytkova as her faithful servant Suzuki and the slimy marriage broker Goro played with gusto by Sergiy Ledenov.

Butterfly, set in Nagasaki, Japan in the early 1900s, is the story of a geisha, a trusting soul who gives herself completely to American Pinkerton and remains the faithful wife when all around her, barring Suzuki, have disowned her. Bringing up the absent naval officer's son, Butterfly looks longingly over the sea every day for years hoping to see her love return.

However, when he does he brings with him tragedy, heartbreak and ultimately the demise of Cio-Cio-San. The heart-rending tale is told wonderfully through Puccini's score as it weaves around and between the characters' voices expressing the highs and lows of being desperately in love.

With Verdi's La Traviata the following night this is the first run for the Ellen Kent Production at The Grand but with the quality they display it's unlikely to be the last.

DANNY FARRAGHER

Stephen Merchant, Symphony Hall

For more than 10 years Stephen Merchant has lived in the shadow of his comedy partner Ricky Gervais,

During this time the pair have made hugely successful television programmes The Office and Extras and the gangly 6ft 7in Merchant hasn't been anywhere near the stage, leaving his stand-up career on the back burner.

It would have been easy for him to live off his success but Merchant's bold attempt to branch out on his own with new tour Hello Ladies will pay off handsomely. Refreshingly, Gervais only gets one mention in the show with Merchant focusing not on his fame, but his inability to woo the ladies.

Of course the duo share the same sense of humour so there are tinges of Gervais here, but Merchant gives his routine a far more humble and genuinely endearing touch. Stephen Merchant is at Wolverhampton Civic Hall on Saturday, November 5.

TIM SPIERS

One Man, Two Guvnors, New Alexandra

Panto season has come early to the Alex, where Gavin and Stacey's James Corden revamps an 18th century play in a rollicking night of belly laughs with lots of audience participation and banter.

Set in the criminal underworld of 1960s Brighton by playwright Richard Bean, rather than the 1740s Venice of Carlo Goldoni's Servant Of Two Masters, a fine ensemble from the National Theatre blend farce, slapstick, music hall smut and a dollop of Monty Pythonism.

Daniel Rigby - recently seen on screen as Eric Morecambe - is superb as a pompous actor, Oliver Chris is barking as an upper-class twit and Tom Edden almost steals the show as a decrepit ancient waiter. There's even a rock 'n' roll band on stage. But Nicholas Hytner's production hinges on Corden as the feckless hungry rogue who spectacularly fails to cope with his two jobs. It runs until Saturday.

LEON BURAKOWSKI

End of the Rainbow, Hippodrome

JUDY Garland is resurrected by an astonishing performance from Tracie Bennett in Peter Quilter's witty and poignant drama with songs about the decline and fall of the showbiz legend.

This is no tribute to the Hollywood icon in the Stars In Your Eyes mode, although former Coronation Street actress Miss Bennett did win a celebrity version of that show as Garland some years ago. Instead, it is an uncensored depiction of the pill-popping, tantrum-throwing, Garland at the end of her career and, indeed, her life. She was dead at 47 from an overdose of sleeping pills.

Set in a hotel room and the Talk of the Town nightclub, during her punishing schedule of London concerts in 1968 just a few months before her death, Tracie Bennett is spellbinding as the little woman with a big voice. Her performance crackles with energy, showing the way Garland could transform herself on stage despite crippling bouts of self-doubt and stage fright.

There is solid support from Hilton McRae as her pianist and confidante Anthony and Norman Bowman as future husband number five Mickey.

But the play belongs to Tracie Bennett and her intensely physical performance, thrown around by her fiance, crawling, crying, performing as if totally wired on uppers. The final Somewhere Over The Rainbow is a heart-breaker and won a standing ovation. It runs until Saturday.

Jessie J, 02 Academy

She said 'Nobody's Perfect'. And so it proved as Jessica Cornish made a false start on the first date of her Heartbeat tour. The 23-year-old songstress ordered the gig to start again as her backpack wasn't switched on. There's was nothing false about the rest of the night, however.

Jessie said she was using the night to perfect the start for the rest of the tour, and apologised in advance for anything that may have gone wrong. Little did as from the opening track Big White Room she showed off her powerful voice. Chris Brown's I Need This, Casualty of Love and a cover of Luther Vandross's Never too Much showed her soulful side, along with the reggae-infused Stand Up.

Jessie, with purple bob, was dressed in black crop top, shorts and stripy tights that accentuated her height and enjoyed a terrific rapport with the packed crowd.They were given a preview of the yet-to-be released Shadow before an encore that featured debut single Do It Like a Dude and the chart-topping Price Tag, complete with backing vocals from 10-year-old fan Molly. Dummy Love ended the set.

MARK SHIPP

La Traviata, The Grand, Wolverhampton

Courtesan Violetta was passionately played by the wonderfully-talented Rosa Lee Thomas whose astounding vocal range perfectly expressed the unselfish love her tragic character had for Alfredo Germont, played admirably by Andriy Perfilov, in Verdi's tale of tragedy.

Violetta meets Alfredo during a lavish Paris party in the mid-1800s where he declares his love for her and begs her to leave aside her hedonistic lifestyle which he feels is not helping her failing health. After much soul-searching she agrees and finds happiness living with Alfredo and finances their life by gradually selling off her possessions.

Alfredo's father Giorgio, played wonderfully by Ievgenii Lysytskyi, persuades Violetta to give up his son due to the relationship affecting the marital opportunities of his beloved daughter and his duets with the Anglo-American soprano is one of the high points. So, Violetta forces her true love to leave by returning to a previous escort and is left alone with her health rapidly going downhill.Alfredo learns the truth of her unselfish love and returns to find Violetta weak but she lives long enough to tell him of her undying love.

Roots and folk festival promises to be the best yet

THE BEST line up yet has been promised when a Lichfield festival returns for the third year running.

Lichfield Roots & Folk Festival starts tomorrow (Friday) at the Lichfield Guildhall and runs until Sunday with a host of varied acts due to perform.

Kicking of the event at 7.30pm will be Lichfield-based blues musician Tom Woodman performing a solo spot in support of headliners Kan.

Saturday's entertainment begins at 12.30pm with a showcase of Lichfield talent including The Reel Hot Ceilidh Peppers, Barricades Rise, Cruel-Folk and Enchanté. The afternoon session is then rounded off by performances from three nationally and internationally recognised acts; Maggie Boyle, BBC Folk Awards nominee Martha Tilston and Dorset-based folk rockers State of Undress.

In the evening State of Undress will return for a second set, followed by Dark Horses – a collaboration between comedian Keith Donnelly and singer Flossie Malavialle.

On Sunday from 10am-1pm there will be an opportunity for budding musicians and performers to take part in a Folk Band Workshop, led by Paloma Trigas of Urban Folk Quartet. Participants have the chase to perform later in the finale of the afternoon session with Lichfield favourites Wildfire Folk. Sunday will also feature performances from Lichfield Lighthouse Company's Sea Shanties Workshop, Ash Mandrake, The Newcombers, Derrin Nauendorf and trio Bryony, Dan and Rosie.

Chase Mist open up the Sunday evening line-up with a second set by Nauendorf and a highly-anticipated performance from 3 Daft Monkeys closing the festival.

Lichfield Art's director Chris Newcombe said: "I can't think of a better way to spend an autumn weekend.

"We have put together a wonderful varied line-up of acts from all around the country and there is something for everyone."

Goldilocks to entertain youngsters

CLASSIC fairytale Goldilocks and the Three Bears is sure to keep children entertained when it is performed at the Lichfield Garrick during half term.

The pantomime-style show follows Goldilocks on her adventures as the circus comes to town, with Goldilocks' father, the circus Ring Master, the hilarious Sarah the Cook and the nasty Baron all joining in the fun.

The Garrick is also inviting children to two special Teddy Bears' Picnic performances on Tuesday October 25, when they can bring their own teddy to sit on their lap.

Every child who brings their teddy bear will receive a free bag of sweets.

Performances take place at 1pm and 4pm on Tuesday and Wednesday (26), 2.30pm on Thursday and Friday and 1pm on Saturday.

Tickets are £12.50 for adults, £9.50 for children and £38 for a family ticket for two adults and two children.

Saturday night at the theatre for the Drifters

CROWD favourites The Drifters make a welcome appearance at the Cannock Prince of Wales Centre on Saturday November 5.

The Drifters are one of the biggest selling bands of all time and have a catalogue of more than 50 hits.

These include Saturday Night at the Movies, Under the Boardwalk, On Broadway, Up on the Roof, Come On Over To My Place and Kissing In The Back Row of the Movies.

Their line up may have changed over the years, with more than 60 vocalists officially performing as part of the group, but the current foursome is still owned by the Treadwell family.

The group was formed in 1953 under the management of former jazz singer George Treadwell.

Right from the very beginning there was a constant succession of regular line-up changes that would characterise The Drifters name. Early line up members included William Anderson, David Baughan, David Baldwin and James Johnson, bass player Bill Pinkney, guitarist Jimmy Oliver, brothers Gerhart and Andrew Thrasher and bass singer Willie Ferbee.

They were inducted in the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1988 in recognition of the global success, which spans nearly six decades.

The current line up consists of Carlton Powell, Damion Charles, Michael Williams and Ryan King.

Tickets, which cost £25, are available by calling the box office on 01543 578762.

Veteran singer Elkie's still powering on

ROCK and blues diva Elkie Brooks may be in her 51st year in the music business but she's still going strong and performs at the Lichfield Garrick this weekend.

The British singer's latest show will include classic hits, blues and jazz tunes and material from Brookes' new album Powerless, which features a cover of Prince's Purple Rain, Pearl's a Singer, Sunshine after the Rain and Fool if You Think It's Over.

She will be at the Garrick on Saturday (October 22) and tickets are £26.50. visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com or call 01543 412121

John Cooper Coupe is Mini's sporty flagship

IN THE space of a decade, BMW has achieved something many thought impossible.

Since 2001 its Mini range has clocked up two million sales and is available in 90 markets around the world. Not bad for something cynics thought would be a fashion flash in the pan.

Part of that success can be attributed to the regular introduction of new bodystyles. The original three-door hatch spawned a convertible, then a 'mini' estate and more recently a full four-seat compact SUV, the Countryman.

You can now add a two-seat coupe to the list, a variant Mini executives hope will attract buyers seeking a more focused and sporty experience.

Its arrival also positions the Coupe alongside the likes of Peugeot's popular RCZ coupe, a car that's done wonders for its maker's image.

The Mini Coupe performs its duties as a halo model for the rest of the range with aplomb. Its heavily raked windscreen and low-slung profile is the most dramatic look yet for a Mini.

Although width and length dimensions are near identical to the hatch, the Coupe's height is 29mm lower. And, thanks to its equally rakish rear screen, you're left in no doubt that the Coupe is a strict two-seater.

Fear not on the practicality front, though. With a hatchback tailgate that opens to reveal a maximum volume of 280 litres plus a through-load slot into the cabin, it's on par with the estate-like Clubman. Up front there's the usual oddment spaces you'll find in any Mini.

Along with its looks, the Mini Coupe has been designed to behave a little different on the road.

With its firmer suspension set up, the Coupe has been designed to deliver a more focused experience for the keen driver. As such, there's noticeably less roll through corners and there's a greater willingness to change direction.

Character

Thankfully such changes haven't resulted in a reduction in the quality of the car's ride. Yes, it's a bit stiffer than a regular three-door hatch, but you get to keep your fillings at the end of a journey.

The trade-off is a more chuckable and engaging drive, which is what you'd expect from a two-seat coupe.

Reinforcing the car's sporty character is an engine line-up comprised of Mini's more powerful diesel and petrol units.

There's no One or One D here, as the Coupe range starts with the familiar Cooper badge and its 122 horsepower offering.

The Cooper S shares the Cooper's 1.6 petrol unit but adds a turbo to produce 184 horsepower, while the John Cooper Works variant's output from the same motor is a heady 211 horsepower.

Diesel fans can opt for the Cooper SD, which has a 2.0-litre turbo unit outputting 143 horsepower. It also offers the lowest emissions and economy performance – 114g/km and 65.7mpg respectively.

But which is the best in the real world? All the engines have proven themselves in other Mini variants, most recently the diesel in hatch, convertible and Countryman models.

There's no question that the combination of wallet-friendly economy, 143 horsepower and a substantial 225lb/ft torque make for relaxed yet brisk performance.

Overtaking is quick and safe and there's enough low down grunt to make the traffic light grand prix entertaining.

The diesel's trademark growl when pushed hard is also appealing, but if you want the performance to match the Coupe's looks, then it has to be the John Cooper Works experience.

Rapid replaces brisk when de… performance, while the die… been elbowed out of the w… impatient-sounding how…

Factor in a surprisingly compliant ride despite its sporty character and a short, slick manual gearshift, and the Coupe experience easily becomes a fun one.

Part of that fun comes before you've even signed the cheque.

With a plethora of options to help customise your purchase, Mini offers everything from colour-coded cabin trim, satnav, sports seats and different wheel designs to suede-trimmed steering wheels and contrasting body stripes.

The Coupe is proof that there's plenty of life left in the brand, and its own sporty personality is genuine and infectious.

Standing out for performance is Nissan's GT-R – a superb piece of engineering

By Chris Lilly

Nissan's back-room boys show off a sharp portfolio

THE Nissan Charged Tour was a real showcase for engineering prowess.

The guys in the Japanese firm's engine department have really been earning their wages recently.

The headline offering at the tour was, surprisingly, the new Micra DIG-S The last part of the model name is the key to that as it becomes the Micra's flagship engine.

Nissan has placed a 1.2-litre powerplant up front and supercharged it. Not in the name of performance – that's a happy bonus. Thanks to supercharging and efficiency-biased technologies, the Micra DIG-S has almost 100bhp, a 0-62mph time of 11.3 seconds yet 63mpg on the combined cycle and emissions below the key 100g/km mark, so you don't have to pay road tax to drive a nippy city car.

The ride and handling are set up for town driving but Nissan would have made a mistake had it tried to make the DIG-S a hot hatch. The Micra has a decent amount of grunt but isn't sporty, which means it will cope with potholes and speed bumps. The steering is light and accurate and good all-round visibility makes parking nice and simple.

The excellent engine is the main feature. It pulls well when needed but will run about town in low revs easily, conserving petrol. It is one of the best in the supermini class. To put it into perspective, the emission and fuel figures are close to matching the diesels, with better performance and it has made a good all-round small car even better.

Almost overshadowing the Micra DIG-S was the Leaf, Nissan's all-electric family car. No fuel is burnt under the bonnet and no emissions leave the exhaust pipe either – partly because there is no exhaust pipe.

The Leaf is, electric considerations aside, a good family car. There's plenty of space for four adults with good boot space, though that's to be expected with the Mégane-style, big-bum boot. One thing that must be considered is the rear footwell. Because the batteries fit under the floor, it's shallow and gives little space for toes under the front seats. Otherwise, legroom is good in a stylish and practical cabin. The cream interior adds to the light and airy feel and the dark centre console is a practical information centre. There is so much information from the dashboard that it really helps maximise the amount of power you can get from the Leaf's batteries.

Energy

There are a number of different systems to extract precious miles. The gauge above the speedometer shows how much power you're using and works in reverse, showing energy recouped and you quickly work out the best way to make the most of the energy-saving systems. The best way to save is to avoid the open road. Staying at constant speed and revs gives little or no chance to regain energy as there are few opportunities to brake. The other way is to put the gearbox into eco-mode, which limits power used, and use the normal mode like a supercharger you turn on and off when you want acceleration. When you put your foot down, you see the electric motor's party trick – a lot of torque instantly available for pleasantly surprising acceleration. It helps make the Leaf a viable, if initially pricey, alternative if you rarely go more than 80 miles or so per trip.

Talking of surprising acceleration brings me to the Juke DIG-T. The turbocharged engine in this small SUV makes the Juke seem like a hot hatch. More surprising is that Nissan has designed the handling to match the performance.

The 1.6-litre turbo engine gives an acceleration figure of eight seconds from 0-62mph and the handling suits the engine's responsiveness with impressive grip and even more impressive lack of body roll.

If you want performance, the most startling engine of all the cars on test was squeezed under the bonnet of the Nissan GT-R – a superb piece of engineering.

The twin-turbocharged V8 produces a massive 523bhp which offers simply stunning acceleration. Every time you decide to accelerate hard, you feel yourself hanging on tightly, and grinning madly before you realise the speed limit is rapidly approaching and you back off very quickly.

Vauxhall cleans up in a fleet challenge

The V8-powered VXR8 – a clear winner on A and B roads and the motorway during the two-day event

VAUXHALL'S VXR8 super-saloon is the unlikely winner of the Fleet World MPG Marathon, with an astounding 53 per cent improvement on the combined figure.

Driven by Top Gear Online editor Chris Mooney with help from navigator, Andrew Duerden, Vauxhall's archivist and resident eco-driving expert, the V8-powered VXR8 registered 32.14mpg against a combined figure of 21mpg.

The Fleet World MPG Marathon is the UK longest-running economy driving event.

The two-day event took place in the Cotswolds this year with separate routes covering 350 miles of countryside including a mixture of A and B roads and motorway driving.

Improvement

"Andrew and I are, as they say, over the moon to win the overall best percentage improvement in the VXR8," said Mooney.

"It just goes to show that the person behind the wheel can make a massive difference to fuel costs and carbon emissions. And, of course, that a 6.2 litre V8 is a very sensible choice of engine in the right hands."

Chris and Andrew will pick up their trophy at a presentation at the Royal Automobile Club in Pall Mall, London tomorrow.

The VXR8 stormed back with a vengeance earlier this year, packing heavily revised front and rear-end styling, a new cabin and a raft of new technology to enhance its appeal to drivers in search of one of the last, great rear-drive V8 super-saloons.

Enjoy some Mii time with a Compact Seat

MEET the Seat Mii – pronounced 'me' rather than 'my-ee' or 'me-eye'.

It's Seat's new city car that it's touting as a perfect run-about for young, sporty types who spend a lot of their driving time in town.

Promising "compelling practicality", "exceptional driving fun" and "high efficiency", the Mii is Seat's answer to the Volkswagen Up!, and shares its basic platform.

At just more than 3.5 metres long it will be sold as a three-door to begin with, followed by a five-door version next year. At only 854kg, the Mii is one of the lightest 'normal' cars on the road. Light weight helps efficiency, so the UK version of the Mii Ecomotive will have CO2 emissions of only 97g/km along with fuel economy of 67.3mpg.

Continental Europe, however, will get a special variant with just 86g/km of CO2, which is only 1g worse than the current best for an internal combustion-engined car, set by the Kia Rio 1.1-litre diesel.

It's a shame Seat has no plans to make a right-hand-drive version of the lesser-emissions model. But Seat has fair reason to hold off when it will already have a Mii in this country that benefits from free road tax by being under the 100g/km barrier.

There will be two petrol engines, with 59bhp and 74bhp. Technological highlights aimed at the young audience Seat wants to capture include the Seat Portable System.

Hardly a catchy name, but the removable five-inch screen can be used as a satnav when you're on foot as well as in the car, and it has full integration into the car's phone and audio systems.

Notice of Cancellation of Registration
(Friendly Societies Act 1974 s.91)

Notice is hereby given that the Financial Services Authority has this day cancelled the registration of Brindley Village Working Men's Club and Institute (Register No. 1189 W) the registered office of which is at Bracken Close, Brindley Heath, Hednesford, Cannock, Staffordshire. Popular wonder bait is now back in stock

ANGLING REPORT by VERNON LEADBETTER

MANY warm weather anglers would have put their rods away at the beginning of September, knowing that the onset of Autumn usually means cooler days and slower sport.

But who would have bet on an October as warm as the one we are having now? Great weather to be out fishing in, but believe it or not the bright conditions have had a less than positive effect on fishing.

The recent Blackfords AC match fished at Kingswood Lake highlighted the fact – catch weights down and a few dry nets.

Other local waters, including Hamstall, Coppice and Woodlands are all reporting decent catches and the river anglers are also having some nice catches of bream, barbel and chub. Pike fishing has been slow but that is due to the warm weather and a lot of pike anglers will not start until we get the first cold snap!

Trout waters have been fishing well and good sport is being enjoyed at Blithfield and Carsington Water. Carsington is showing a rod average of nearly five trout per angler, all popular patterns such as buzzers, montana, cats whisker and vivas are catching fish.

The Marukyu wonder bait is now back in stock at Archline Angling, such has been the popularity of these little red pellets that we have been on a strictly limited supply for the past couple of months as demand outstripped production.

We knew they were good back in the spring but a couple of high profile articles in the angling press certainly sent sales soaring! If you have yet to try it, get some now before the next shortage!

Don't forget to send us an e-mail with a picture if you catch anything of interest, and let us know if you have had a great day's sport and want to give your fishery a mention.

If you have any interesting catches to report please contact Vernon at Archline Angling on 01922 411205, call into the store or email fish@archlineangling.co.uk

It's a net gain for student trio

STUDENTS at Hednesford's Kingsmead Technology College made a net gain at the u-14's South Staffs Netball Academy trials.

Some 20 students were successful in gaining places for the academy, which is a new talent pathway for England Netball. Girls receive top quality county coaching every two weeks at Chase Leisure Centre.

Three Kingsmead girls, Laura Greenwood, Alice Sewell and Ellie-Jane Ryder, were successful last year and now represent the county.

Head of PE Ashley Perry, said: "It is an incredible achievement for any school to have students performing at County Level, but to have three girls is fantastic. We are very proud of them."

BOWLS

Prog underlines status as one of area's top teams

LEA Hall Bowling Club in Rugeley once again provided a top quality venue for the end of season Lea Hall Open Doubles trophy.

The finals line-up was strong with a real mix of top Staffordshire and Warwick and Worcester players.

The Dunkleys made a great start in their pursuit of the title with a comfortable 21-9 defeat of Craig Barker and Ant Bracken.

Mel Evans and Lynne Pritchatt were made to fight as they just edged their first round game 21-20.

In the bottom half of the draw Ben Harris and Simon Trentham cruised into the semi-finals 21-12 at the expense of Jones and Davies. They continued this superb form into the semi-finals as they trounced Chapman and Cavill 21-5 with some real high-quality bowling.

The other semi-final went the way of Evans and Pritchatt who had too much green knowledge for the Dunkleys and ended up deserving 21-13 victors. The final was another exhibition from Harris and Trentham as they steamrollered the Chadsmoor pair 21-6. Results:

Quarter-finals: R. Dunkley & P. Dunkley 21 C. Barker & A. Bracken 9, M. Evans & L. Pritchatt 21 C. Capewell & D. Coleman 20, S. Chapman & B. Cavill 21 S. Saunders & J. Saville 7, G. Davies & K P Jones 12, B. Harris & S. Trentham 21.

Semi-finals: R. Dunkley & P. Dunkley 13 M. Evans & L. Pritchatt 21, S. Chapman & B. Cavill 5, B. Harris & S Trentham 21.

Final: M. Evans & L. Pritchatt 6 B. Harris & S. Trentham 21.

Fullwood Conservative Club near Preston hosted the finals of the annual BCGBA Mixed Pairs competitions with the best line-up in the competition's history.

Defending champions Lynsey Gorman and Terry Glover were joined by Lynn Pritchatt and Mel Evans together with strong pairings from the other counties.

Staffordshire's second pair Lynne and Keith Anderson faced Yorkshire pair Christine Pilling and Keith Hatzer in the first round and a thrilling game saw them unluckily bow out 21-20.

Pritchatt and Evans opened with a comfortable 21-12 victory over Warwick and Worcester pair Greg Smith and Rachel Bennett. Gorman and Glover also made it through to the second round by the same score. The Isle of Man were represented by Jenny Moore and John Kennish and they defeated Debbie Farmer and Brian Barrass 21-19 in their opening game.

Expense

The second round saw the leading pairs progress with Pritchatt and Evans defeating Welsh pair Viv Roberts and Neil Snodgrass 21-14, Gorman and Glover defeating Alex and Will Harrison from Lancashire 21-16 and Moore and Kennish proving too good for Helen and Andrew Gilroy by 21-12.

The quarter-finals produced a surprise as Moore and Kennish defeated former champions Mel Evans and Lynn Pritchatt. Gorman and Glover made it comfortably through at the expense of Kate Wilson and Michael Knowles.

The semi-finals saw an intriguing game between Gorman and Glover and their opponents Dot Dwyer and Mick Connolly from Greater Manchester which the latter pair edged 21-16. Moore and Kennish eased past South Yorkshire's Debbie Talbot and Lee Schofield 21-10. No pair has ever successfully defended the title in the competition's short history but Gorman and Glover came close before losing to Moore and Kennish 21-13.

Chadsmoor Progressive underlined their status as one of the top teams in the Midlands with a superb display to defeat Greville Arms in the final of the Free Press Cup at Sinclair Bowling Club in Shropshire.

Chadsmoor got off to a flyer with Mick Ledwidge defeating Ash Bracken 21-10 and was supported by Dave Rhodes winning 21-19.

Victories for Chris Grocott, Cliff Johnson and Russ Pegram took the lead to 29 shots before further victories for Dave Hayward and Mel Evans saw the trophy won.

Results: (Chadsmoor first). D. Rhodes 21 G. Herbert 19, M. Ledwidge 21 Ash Bracken 10, K. Keary 20 P. Davenport 21, B. Booth 16 J. Sturdy 21, C. Grocott 21 S. Wallace 8, L. Pritchatt 20 L. Banbury cross at big loss

MORE FOOTBALL

BANBURY UTD RESERVES 1 CHASETOWN RESERVES 7

FOR the second time in a month the Scholars Reserves travelled to Oxfordshire to face a Banbury side that are the only team to have avoided defeat at the hands of Andy Penny's boys this season.

The match started tentatively, but when the game did come to life there was more action in the last 10 minutes of the first half as there was in the previous 35.

It started when Steve Howkins, arguably Banbury's most influential player lost the plot and was red-carded for lashing out at Jonathan Gould. Banbury took the lead though through Joe Eyre.

Drew Aiton drew Chasetown level before the break, but Chasetown went on six-goal second half rampage, with Karl Edwards, Chad Degville-Cross, Gould and substitute Tom Brown all on target, with Aiton completing his hat-trick.

CHASETOWN LADIES 14 LICHFIELD CITY LADIES 0

Chasetown Ladies made easy progress in the Staffordshire County Cup.

The gulf between the two sides at kick off should have guaranteed a large victory, but Carly Edwards' side still had to complete the job.

The Scholars were ahead after seven minutes through Jodie Kinsey.

The second goal came in the 27th minute from a Carly Edwards cross-cum-shot. Then, Kinsey fired a shot into the bottom corner.

On the stroke of half-time, it was game over as Kinsey completed her hat-trick.

After the interval, Chasetown went for the kill and added to their tally through Lyndsey Turner (2), Bethan Garland-Ridding, Kinsey, who scored two more, Edwards and a five-minute hat-trick from Kate Rose. The final strike came from twin Megan Rose.

NORTH STAFFS YMCA LADIES 2 SHENSTONE LADIES 4

Shenstone progressed to the next round of the Challenge Cup by dismissing North Staffs from division one.

The breakthrough came when the ball rolled free for Sophie Wilding to slot home.

Dhiane Rose-Laing was sustained a leg and head injury in a collision with the keeper.

More pressure from Wilding found herself free 20 yards out and she put the second over the keeper.

Kelly Jarvis hit home a long-ranger before North Staffs pulled two back. Loren Evans settled the nerves.

LICHFIELD DIAMONDS LFC 6 KIDDERMINSTER LFC 0

Diamonds notched there biggest victory over Kidderminster taking the lead after only 37 seconds through Karen Clough, who went on to score four. Kim Hill and Alison Livermore completed the scoring.
